AN INJUNCTION.

Filed by the Tax Payers Protesting Against Paving.

An Arrest for Adultery—News in All the Courts—General Cleanliness—Railroad Notes.

The long-expected injunction suit against the city to prevent the paving of Twenty-fifth street was filed in the First district court last evening.

The plaintiffs in the action are J. C. Armstrong, William Driver, James H. Spargo, G. W. Murphy, John Brown, William Chapman and H. L. Griffin. The defendants are the mayor and city council of Ogden.

The complaint is very lengthy and contains no less than a dozen closely type-written pages. In the complaint it is alleged that William H. Henderson, R. C. Lundy, John McManis, H. H. Spencer, M. N. Graves, Thomas D. Dea, H. W. Shurtliff, E. M. Allison Jr., J. B. Elliott, Frank J. Cannon and James M. Calvert, and the mayor and members constituting the common council of the city of Ogden, that while acting in that capacity and without authority and beyond their jurisdiction.

That the common council working as an organized body on May 3 instructed the city recorder to advertise for bids. The complaint further alleges that the proposed action of the council is entirely without authority and beyond their jurisdiction. That the notice of intention heretofore published to create paving district No. 2 does not conform to the statute, viz: "That it is uncertain and indefinite in that it does not state whether it is the intention to pave or macadamize said district, and if to pave the kind of material to be used. That the whole of the lands to be effected by the said local assessment is not sufficiently described; that the costs could not be properly estimated without designating the kind of material intended to be used. That many persons who are owners of property have signed the protest, but not certain members of the council stated to them that the matter of the kind of material would be left to the majority of the property owners in the district."

The complaint further alleges that if the contracts for the laying of the Utah road, the material that had already been done upon by the council is entirely without authority and beyond their jurisdiction. The complaint further alleges that the city of Ogden could make much better and more favorable contracts with the city than it has now entered into in Ogden at the present time.

The plaintiffs pray that the defendants, their agents, attorneys, and persons perpetually enjoined from laying any assessments upon the plaintiffs' real estate, and upon all other real estate owners similarly situated, for the purpose of paving Twenty-fifth street.

H. H. Henderson and Brown & Henderson appear as attorneys for the plaintiffs.

TURF, FIELD, WHEEL AND RING

A Comprehensive Glance at Men and Events Prominent in the Sporting Circles of the Country.

Seldom, if ever before in the history of western turf events has there been a bigger list of big horses entered for races than that which is booked for the spring meeting of the Salt Lake Driving Park association in this city from Saturday, June 11, to Saturday, June 18. The interest in the meeting is more widespread than ever and there is every probability that the week will see the greatest throng brought together that ever attended a sporting event in Utah. This week and next many of the horsemen are in Denver preparing for the meet there, which holds on steadily from May 28 to June 19. Among those who are here, have been or will be here in time for the opening, however, are the following:

A. C. Heckwith of Evanston has been here for two weeks with his stable of fourteen horses, included in which are his famous premier stallions Saint Wood and Bedford. He has besides several 2 and 3 year-old colts entered in the stakes. Beckwith's stallions are in charge of the well known eastern horse-trainer, Yorkie, who will take the place of the late Frank H. Higgs, Jr., the noted Turk. Frank Higgs, Jr., who had a record last year of 2:10, is entered in the free-for-all.

E. E. Keating of Lodi, Cal., arrived Tuesday with a string of trotters and pacers, all of which are entered in the various races. The trotter Frank M. with a record of 2:15, the moor Turk, Frank Higgs, Jr., with Crown Prince, Ottinger, Ed Higgs, Jr., Eastwood and the 3-year-old colt Extravagant make up the Keating string.

B. C. Holly, the only and original, will be here for the event; he passed through Salt Lake Friday enroute for Denver.

Dr. David, the Sacramento horseman, is here with the black stallion Nevada and one or two other horses.

Utah's old favorite, L. C. Lee, will be in the free-for-all, being entered by A. D. Carson, under whom he has made a record of 1:57. Carson also has the chestnut mare Bee, Scott Ashton and the pacers John B. and W. E. S.

By winning the Melbourne steeple chase, Jock Murphy established his claim to the title of the best two-year-old colt that has yet shown in the west. More important than his embellish the strong American line of horses that runs Glenora, Vandal, Virgil, Isaac Murphy, a line as good as any England can boast of.

The false prophets who forecast disaster ahead for the Bostonians because there were five old captains in the team have taken to the woods.

Burns, of the Brooklyn, was the first league player to be fined this season. Umpire Hurst slapped $10 on him at Philadelphia.

Arthur Irwin is said to have the refusal of the services of Hayne, the young university of Pennsylvania pitcher, after the college season is over.

Archie Latham has had more chances than any third baseman in the league. This would seem to give a black eye to some of his duds enemies, who say he is a "whiff-cracker."

Russie, with his $7,000 contract, is plying very hard to leave his club. He says such it will set the teeth of the New York directors on edge to pay out $1,000 every month for such twirling.

George Van Halten has resigned the management of the Baltimore club and will endeavor to fill the place. "Sleepy" Bill Johnson has been released.

Long, Boston's short stop, played a remarkable game at Cincinnati May 6, in a fourteen-inning game, putting out five, and making fourteen times, and had but one error.

E. F. Lawrence, released by Chicago, has signed with the western league and been assigned to Columbus. He will prove a valuable man there. E. J. Hengie has been suspended indefinitely.

Giescock accused an umpire of having "tricked" in his brain and was fined $2; if the umpire had said that to Jack he wouldn't have been far wrong, for Jack's brain isn't certainly of the size to contain balls.

The following men will captain the eastern league teams: Sam Vize, Rochester; Jack McGilone, Troy; Jay Pate, Syracuse; Leo Smith or Sid Farrar, Providence; Dan Stearns, Buffalo; Harry Lyons, Portland; Phil Shannon, New Haven; Mike Lehane, Birmingham; Hobby Wheelock, Elmira, and Jim Fields, Albany.

Pitcher George Mackin has been released by the Chicago club. He is regarded as a comer, but with Gumbert and Luby in the form it was decided to release him so that he could engage with another club. He only played one championship game this season. He went into the box at Louisville April 16 and held the colts down to six hits.

There are a number of cyclists in Saigon, Cochinchina.

G. L. Morris, of Referee bicycle fame, is very sick in England.

The members of the Illinois Cycling club, one of the largest clubs in Chicago, nearly all ride pneumatics. But one puncture has been reported for the season.

Marshall Heister and N. Tip Sies of Baltimore recently placed the record between that city and Washington at 4:30. The route is mixed, muddy, hilly and sandy.

In the first important French road race of the year, the Lyon-Republican race, which was held on May 23, the winner was making the distance in 29 hours and 35 minutes.

While coasting down a steep hill recently a Gloucester (Mass.) wheelman lost control of his machine and dashed through the window of an undertaking establishment.

The cycle track race is spreading. Tracks are now in course of completion at Raleigh and Rutherford, N. J.; Detroit, Sioux City, Idaho, San Antonio, Sacramento, Oakland and San Jose.

C. C. Hopkins, formerly of Colorado, recently rode from Stockton to Sacramento, Cal., a distance of fifty-two miles, in 3h. 20m., lowering the previous record by 1h. 30m. Thirty miles of the road is very rough.

Otto Praeger, the newspaper reporter who is riding from San Antonio, Tex., to Mexico, recently had his machine wrecked while coasting down a mountain, and had to walk sixty miles. The incident of the trip was his going thirty hours without eating or sleeping.

A writer in Sporting Life comments on the fact that in the Illinois division, L. A. W. on of income of $2,161.35, the sum of $822.45 was used last year in entertainments and "gambling" by the officials of the division, and $139 for road improvements.

Johanne Jorgensen, the plucky Danish girl who has broken so many hard-earned records created by men, is training in male garb on a tandem, with a prominent Danish road man, who occupies the front seat, so that in their fast road work the sex of the leading rear rider is never guessed. The little
